Parish Mission Statement

"What then is a parish? It is the smallest section of the one universal flock which has been entrusted to Peter by the Lord.

Under the authority of a responsible priest who has received the care of souls from his bishop, the parish is, within the Church of Jesus Christ, the first community of Christian life; it is a community cut to human dimensions, in which the shepherd can know his flock and the flock can know their shepherd ... At the heart of this area, we find the parish church with its bell-tower, its baptistery, its confessional, its altar and tabernacle, a symbol of unity and the centre of community life."

THE MONTH OF THE IMMACULATE HEART

August is the Month of the Immaculate Heart of Mary in Catholic devotion. This month is high-lighted by Feasts which draw us in to the Mystery of Eternal Life in Heaven. August 6th (Tuesday of this week) is the Feast of the Transfiguration of Our Lord. Before He went to His Passion, Christ Our Lord allowed three of His Apostles—Peter, James, and John—a preview of Himself in His glorified Body, a vision they did not understand until after the Resurrection itself.

August 15th (a week from Thursday) is the Solemnity of the Assumption of Our Lady into Heaven, Body and Soul. Mary's heavenly Glorification, while confirming her reward, also points to the heavenly company of all the saints. Please do not forget that the Assumption is a Holy Day of Obligation.

The Octave Day of the Assumption (August 22nd) emphasizes both Mary's exaltation and the excellence of her intercessory rôle. In the Old Calendar the Feast of the Immaculate Heart falls on the Octave Day: in the New Calendar it is the Coronation of Our Lady.

On the Sunday which falls after the Octave Day of the Assumption, August 25th, we will have our annual Mission Appeal on behalf of Fr. Salako's Benin/Niger Province of the S.M.A. (Society of African Missions). Fr. Salako will preach the Mission Appeal at all of our parish Sunday Masses on this day. Over the next August Sundays I will put in some of the pictures Fr. Salako has sent me of the mission, in particular the on-going construction of the new provincial seminary for the training of S.M.A. priests.

Looking further ahead at our calendar for September, please save the date for the Sunday after Labor Day, September 8th, which is the day we will hold our annual end-of-summer Parish Picnic in the parish gardens, beginning at 12 noon after the 10:30 Latin Mass.

On Sunday, September 22nd, His Excellency Bishop Robert Reed will visit the parish to confer the Sacrament of Confirmation at the 10:30 Latin Mass, according to the Extraordinary Form of the Roman Rite. We are in the process of finalizing the list of candidates to present to him. Following archdiocesan guidelines, youth candidates must have completed their 14th year in order to be eligible.

EXPOSITION OF THE PSALMS OF THE LITTLE OFFICE OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

PSALM 109

As we are now offering the public celebration of the Little Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary on Thursday evenings prior to the 5:30 P.M. Mass, it is salutary for us to examine the content of each of its five psalms. The English texts of the psalms and their antiphons are taken from the Douai-Rheims Challoner version, as found in the Baronius Press edition of the Little Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

The first psalm of Vespers in the Little Office is Psalm 109, famous for its memorable opening line, Dixit Dominus Domino meo, “The Lord said to my Lord.” This psalm has a prominent place in the New Testament, because it speaks boldly to Jesus’ identity as the messianic King.

In Matthew 22:41-46, Jesus interprets this psalm as a clear prophecy of Himself mysteriously surpassing David in authority and glory, while simultaneously being his genealogical descendant, his “son.” Thus, Jesus indicates the mystery of his hypostatic union, namely, that He is one divine Person who has assumed (i.e., taken and joined to Himself) a full human nature. Jesus thereby confounds His enemies who fail to acknowledge Him as their messianic Lord in the days immediately preceding His crucifixion and resurrection.

In Acts 2:29-36, in his great sermon on Pentecost morning, St. Peter argues that Jesus fulfills the meaning of Psalm 109 by His Ascension and Session at the right hand of the Father: “Being therefore exalted at the right hand of God, and having received from the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, He has poured out this which you see and hear. For David did not ascend into the heavens; but he himself says, ‘The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, till I make your enemies a stool for your feet.’ Let all the house of Israel therefore know assuredly that God has made Him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom you crucified” (Acts 2:33-36, RSV).

In Hebrews 7, St. Paul (likely the author, according to many of the Fathers) speaks eloquently about this psalm, as well, highlighting especially the importance of v. 5: “The Lord hath sworn and will not repent: Thou art a priest for ever according to the order of Melchisedech.” As the commentators explain, the author argues that Jesus’ eternal priesthood surpasses the dignity and essence of the Levitical priesthood for two reasons: 1) because God established it with an unchangeable oath, and 2), because Christ is risen from the dead, and is therefore able to officiate as priest forever.

We can see, then, why it is to this psalm that we turn first in our evening prayer, because it summarizes two central mysteries of the faith: the Incarnation and the Paschal Mystery.

Four of the five antiphons which sandwich each of the five psalms in Vespers are taken from the Song of Solomon. These marital images of a Bride and Bridegroom have a long history of mystical interpretation in the Synagogue and in the Church as referring to the mystical nuptial relationship between God and his Chosen People, between Christ and his Church. Since Mary is the archetype of the Church, i.e., its “symbol and [its] most perfect realization,” these texts apply to her in a singular way (cf. Catechism of the Catholic Church nos. 507, 967).

For Psalm 109, we hear the following: “While the King was reposing, my spikenard yielded the odour of sweetness” (Song of Solomon 1:12). The literal sense of this text speaks to the lavish way in which the royal couple was courting and preparing for their wedding. We may argue that the spiritual sense speaks to the super-abundant merits and sweetness of the Blessed Virgin Mary and thus, we may see it as an oblique reference to her Immaculate Conception. The sleeping King is her Incarnate Lord, asleep in her womb or in her motherly arms.

Mr. David Allen, M.T.S., is the lay Pastoral Associate for our parish of Mary Immaculate of Lourdes.

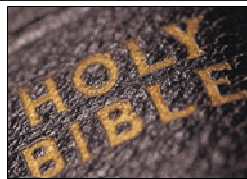

LITTLE OFFICE OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

Following upon his summer book study on the Liturgy of the Hours, David Allen, our Lay Pastoral Associate, will be leading the communal recitation and singing of Vespers from the "Little Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary" in its traditional form. Vespers will be held regularly on Thursday evenings at 5:10 P.M., prior to the 5:30 P.M. Latin Mass. The parish will provide copies of the office books to be used by those who wish to participate.

LATIN MASS PROPERS: EIGHTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

INTROIT: Psalm 47:10-11. 2 We have received Thy mercy, O God, in the midst of Thy temple. according to Thy name, O God, so also is Thy praise unto the ends of the earth: Thy right hand is full of justice. Ps. Great is the Lord, and exceedingly to be praised in the city of God, in His holy mountain V. Glory be to the Father.

COLLECT Grant us, we pray, Lord, in Thy goodness, the spirit to think and to do always what is right, so that we, who cannot exist without Thee, may be able to live according to Thy will. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

EPISTLE: Romans 8:12-17. Brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh; for if you live according to the flesh, you shall die; but if by the Spirit you mortify the deeds of the flesh, you shall live. For whosoever are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. For you have not received the spirit of bondage again in fear, but You have received the spirit of adoption of sons, whereby we cry: Abba (Father). For the Spirit Himself giveth testimony to our spirit, that we are the sons of God; and if sons, heirs also; heirs indeed of God, and joint heirs with Christ.

GRADUAL: Psalm 30, 3; 70, 1. Be Thou unto me a God, a protector and a place of refuge, to save me. V. In Thee, O God, have I hoped, let me never be confounded. ALLELUIA: Psalm 47, 2. Alleluia, alleluia. V. Great is the Lord, and exceedingly to be praised, in the city of our God, in His holy mountain. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Luke 16, 1-9. At that time, Jesus spoke to His disciples this parable: “There was a certain rich man who had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods; and he called him, and said to him: ‘How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship, for now thou canst be steward no longer.’ And the steward said within himself: ‘What shall I do, because my lord taketh away from me the stewardship? To dig I am not able: to beg I am ashamed. I know what I will do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.’ Therefore calling together every one of his master’s debtors, he said to the first: ‘How much dost thou owe my lord?’ But he said: ‘A hundred barrels of oil.’ And he said to him: ‘Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.’ Then he said to another: ‘And how much dost thou owe?’ Who said: ‘A hundred quarters of wheat.’ He said to him: ‘Take thy bill, and write eighty.’ And the lord commended the unjust steward, for as much as he had done wisely: for the children of this world are wiser in their generation than the children of light. And I say unto you: Make unto yourselves friends of the mammon of iniquity, that when you fail, they may receive you into everlasting dwellings.”

OFFERTORY: Psalm 17: 28, 32. Thou wilt save the humble people, O Lord, and wilt bring down the eyes of the proud; for who is God but Thee, O Lord?

SECRET Receive, Lord, we pray, the offerings which we make to You, of what You Yourself have given us, so that by the power of Your grace these holy mysteries may sanctify our present life and bring us to everlasting joys. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Preface of the Holy Trinity

COMMUNION: Psalm 33: 9. Taste and see that the Lord is sweet: blessed is the man that hopeth in Him.

POSTCOMMUNION: May this heavenly mystery, Lord, restore us both in soul and in body, so that we may feel within us the power of the sacrament which we celebrate. Through our Lord.
