ABOUT OUR PARISH

Welcome, New Parishioners and Sunday Visitors:

Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Parish is a canonically open parish of the Archdiocese of Boston, which has a Traditional Latin Mass apostolate. Both the ordinary form of the Roman Rite (1970 Missal) and the extraordinary form (1962 Missal) are celebrated here with the blessing of His Eminence Sean Cardinal O'Malley, Archbishop of Boston. We encourage new parishioners to please register in the parish and to introduce yourselves to the Pastor. We are always glad to welcome Sunday visitors here to our beautiful, historic church. We look forward to your coming again.

PLEASE TAKE THE TIME TO FILL OUT A PARISH
REGISTRATION FORM.

Parish Mission Statement

“What then is a parish? It is the smallest section of the one universal flock which has been entrusted to Peter by the Lord.

Under the authority of a responsible priest who has received the care of souls from his bishop, the parish is, within the Church of Jesus Christ, the first community of Christian life; it is a community cut to human dimensions, in which the shepherd can know his flock and the flock can know their shepherd ... At the heart of this area, we find the parish church with its bell-tower, its baptistery, its confessional, its altar and tabernacle, a symbol of unity and the centre of community life.”

Pastor's Note

Fr. Higgins

CHRIST IS RISEN! ALLELUIA!

Last Easter the pestilence of COVID-19 prevented us from worshipping together in church.

This year, although still in time of COVID, we have been able to come together in church for the liturgies of Holy Week and Easter.

In this we are among the lucky, advantaged Christians in the world right now who can come into their churches for worship in community. Many of our fellow Christians throughout the world cannot. All over, the public authorities have forbidden it. We in Massachusetts right now are as on an island of quasi-normality by comparison.

Just before Easter this year the Commission of the [Catholic] Bishops' Conference of the European Union issued a statement of carefully-worded protest against the excessive restriction of religious freedom by European governments during this time of a prolonged pandemic. They said:

It is important not to send out a message that Christians, or more generally, believers are being persecuted inside the [European Union]. However, not overdramatizing does not mean ignoring these disturbing trends. There is a lack of understanding and, in some cases, a lack of interest as to what religion is, and what it means for millions of people in the EU ... Freedom of religion can be limited under certain conditions, and this is allowed by international human rights standards. As a Church, however, we have to be firm on how, when, and up to which point we are ready to accept limitations on church life.

The Commission also cited Pope Francis in his warning against viewing “the spiritual and moral dimension of the human person [as] less important than physical health,” and seeing religious freedom as just “a corollary of freedom of assembly.”

I think that this is an important push-back on the part of the Chief Pastors of the Church in Europe, in what was once the citadel of Christendom. The spiritual and moral dimension of the human person is being treated as less important than physical health. And there is a lack of understanding, and even a lack of interest, as to what religion is and what it means for religious people.

In a corollary to this the Gallup poll reported this past Holy Week that less than 50% of the American population self-reports affiliation with any religion, the lowest since the Gallup poll began in 1937. (In that year, the figure was 73%.) General disaffiliation is the trend. The pandemic has merely laid it bare.

We might say then that as Catholics in the world today we find ourselves in a middle-state between an actual persecution and a true “peace-of-the-church”. (In a true “peace-of-the-church” the Church would be seen in society as a beacon of light and a force for social good.) This middle-state has at least two implications for us.

One, we have to build up our own personal Catholic faith-life from within, without any meaningful external supports from society. If we ourselves are not invested in living the Catholic faith-life from within, each and every day, then we are simply not going to be able to withstand the unrelenting outside pressure to just “give it up”.

Two, just because there is no real acknowledged “social space” for the Church (as the readiness of public authorities to reduce and diminish religious freedom in disproportionate ways during the pandemic has shown) does not mean that we, as Catholics, do not have very real obligations to the larger world in terms of social duty and social charity. We do. It does not help our cause if we were to give just occasion for others to say: “Look at those Catholics. They go on and on about their absolute personal right to religious freedom but they clearly don't care about the rights of others!”

Remember: Christ's promise of blessing for those who are reviled and persecuted for His sake applies only if the detraction is a falsehood: "Blessed are ye when they shall revile you and persecute you and speak all that is evil against you, UNTRULY, for My sake. Be glad and rejoice for your reward is very great in heaven." (Matthew 5:11-12a)

We need to conscientiously live our faith from within, from the depths of our soul, and we need to practice conscientiously social duty and social charity, according to the circumstances at hand. These two things.

For the Christian believer, Easter Sunday is a day of unmitigated joy. In the midst of our brief life-spans, in a world whose frame is itself ever passing away, we have everything. Let us truly rejoice and praise God!

*Christ is Risen! Alleluia!
Indeed He is Risen! Alleluia!*

SHE, TO USE AN ANGLICAN POET’S WORDS, IS ‘HIS VERY SELF BELOW,’ AS FAR AS MEN ON EARTH ARE EQUAL TO THE DISCHARGE AND FULFILMENT OF HIGH OFFICES, WHICH PRIMARILY AND SUPREMEY ARE HIS.”—ST. LATIN MASS PROPERS: EASTER SUNDAY

INTROIT: Psalm 138. 18, 5-6, 1-2 I arose, and am still with Thee, alleluia; Thou hast laid Thy hand upon Me, alleluia; Thy knowledge is become wonderful, alleluia, alleluia. Psalm. Lord, Thou hast searched Me, and known Me; Thou knowest My sitting down and My rising up. V. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen. — I arose ...

COLLECT: O God, Who, on this day, through Thine only-begotten Son, hast conquered death, and thrown open to us the gate of everlasting life, give effect by Thine aid to our desires, which Thou dost anticipate and inspire. Through the same ...

EPISTLE: From First Epistle of Blessed Paul to the Corinthians (I Cor 5. 7-8) Brethren: purge out the old leaven, that you may be a new paste, as you are unleavened: for Christ our Pasch is sacrificed. Therefore let us feast, not with the old leaven, nor with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

GRADUAL: Psalm 117. 24, 1 This is the day which the Lord hath made: let us rejoice and be glad in it. Give praise unto the Lord, for He is good: for His mercy endureth for ever. ALLELUIA I Cor. 5. 7 Alleluia, Alleluia. Christ our Pasch is sacrificed.

EASTER SEQUENCE: Christians! to the Paschal Victim offer your thankful praises. The Lamb the sheep redeemeth: Christ, who only is sinless, reconcileth sinners to the Father. Death and life have contended in that conflict stupendous: the Prince of Life, who died, deathless reigneth. Speak, Mary, declaring what thou sawest wayfaring. "The tomb of Christ who now liveth: and likewise the glory of the Risen. Bright angels at-testing, the shroud and napkin resting. Yea, Christ my hope is arisen: to Galilee He goeth before you." We know that Christ is risen, henceforth ever living: Have mercy, Victor King, pardon giving. Amen. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Continuation of the holy Gospel according to St. Mark 16. 1-7 At that time, Mary Magdalen, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome bought sweet spices, that coming they might anoint Jesus. And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came to the sepulchre, the sun being now risen. And they said one to another: Who shall roll us back the stone from the door of the sepulchre? And looking, they saw the stone rolled back. For it was very great. And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed with a white robe, and they were astonished. Who saith to them: Be not affrighted; ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified: He is risen, He is not here; behold the place where they laid Him. But go, tell His disciples, and Peter, that He goeth before you into Galilee; there you shall see Him, as He told you.

OFFERTORY: Psalm 75. 9-10 The earth trembled and was still when God arose in judgment, alleluia.

SECRET: We beseech Thee, O Lord, accept the prayers of Thy people together with the Sacrifice they offer, that what has been begun by the Paschal Mysteries, may by Thy arrangement result in our eternal healing. Through our Lord Jesus Christ ...

COMMUNION: I Corinthians 5, 7-8 Christ our Pasch is sacrificed, alleluia: therefore let us feast with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

POSTCOMMUNION: Pour forth upon us, O Lord, the spirit of Thy love, that those whose hunger Thou has satisfied with the Sacraments of Easter may in Thy kindness be one in heart. Through our Lord Jesus Christ ...
