ABOUT OUR PARISH

Welcome, New Parishioners and Sunday Visitors:

Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Parish is a canonically open parish of the Archdiocese of Boston, which has a Traditional Latin Mass apostolate. Both the ordinary form of the Roman Rite (1970 Missal) and the extraordinary form (1962 Missal) are celebrated here with the blessing of His Eminence Sean Cardinal O'Malley, Archbishop of Boston. We encourage new parishioners to please register in the parish and to introduce yourselves to the Pastor. We are always glad to welcome Sunday visitors here to our beautiful, historic church. We look forward to your coming again.

PLEASE TAKE THE TIME TO FILL OUT A PARISH
REGISTRATION FORM.

Parish Mission Statement

“What then is a parish? It is the smallest section of the one universal flock which has been entrusted to Peter by the Lord.

Under the authority of a responsible priest who has received the care of souls from his bishop, the parish is, within the Church of Jesus Christ, the first community of Christian life; it is a community cut to human dimensions, in which the shepherd can know his flock and the flock can know their shepherd ... At the heart of this area, we find the parish church with its bell-tower, its baptistery, its confessional, its altar and tabernacle, a symbol of unity and the centre of community life.”

(Pope Saint Paul VI, reigned 1964-1978)
Raised to the Altars October 14th, 2018

Pastor's Note

Fr. Higgins

THE USCCB MEETING: ANTI-CATHOLIC TRIGGER?

At the conclusion of their June (virtual) meeting this month the Catholic bishops of the United States voted for a draft of a document to be made regarding the reception of the Holy Eucharist vis à vis those Catholic public figures who oppose Catholic moral teaching particularly on abortion. This draft-document would then be further discussed at their November meeting. The content of the meeting has been well-reported: the divergent views among the bishops documented, the words of the individual bishops' who weighed in now a matter of record. Also a matter of record is the letter sent by the Pope's representative asking the US House of Bishops not to go down the road which they did.

Catholics, following all of this news coverage, can form their own judgments on what is being discussed and on what the merits and flaws might be to the differing positions under debate. That the bishops are discussing these matters, however, is in itself unremarkable...or should be.

And yet it is the fact of their discussion itself which has triggered such a torrent of vituperative speech in the American public square over recent days. How DARE they! It is as if the Catholic bishops of the US, by discussing anything beyond the confines of how to say the Rosary better or the rules governing movable feasts, have dealt an intolerable insult to all decent Americans. Little, if any, of the response engages with the arguments of the Bishops' majority on the draft-document vote. Instead, we see a free-fire zone of derision and vulgar abuse directed both at the Office of Catholic Bishops and at individual Catholic bishops themselves. We ought not to mistake this for what it really is: it is an outburst of good old American Anti-Catholicism.

Fifth Sunday after Pentecost/ 13th Sunday of the Year

Mary Immaculate of Lourdes, Newton/Needham, Massachusetts

+Angelo Christopher
Edward Nicoloro
December 12th, 2019 -
June 19th, 2021

Please pray for the intention of the parish family of Robert and Kathleen Nicoloro on the tragic death of their toddler son Angelo. Burial rites and the Mass of the Angels will be offered on Monday, June 28th, at 10:30 AM.

"Almighty and Most Loving God, for no merits of their own, as soon as they leave this world, Thou givest everlasting-life to all little children reborn in the font of Baptism; we believe that Thou hast given it to the soul of this little child; grant, Lord, we implore Thee, that by the intercession of Blessed Mary Ever-Virgin and all Thy Saints, we may serve Thee here on earth with pure minds and join the company of Blessed Children forever in Paradise: through Christ Our Lord. Amen."

—Roman Ritual, Burial of Little Children

In his 2003 book The New Anti-Catholicism: The Last Acceptable Prejudice, History and Religious Studies Professor Philip Jenkins wrote:

Catholics and Catholicism are at the receiving end of a great deal of startling vituperation in contemporary America, although generally those responsible never think of themselves as bigots ... In 2002, the furor over child sexual abuse by Catholic clergy provoked a public outpouring of anti-Church and anti-Catholic vituperation on a scale not witnessed in this country since the 1920s. Reasonable and justified critiques of misconduct by particular Church authorities segued effortlessly into grotesque attacks on the Catholic Church as an institution, together with sweeping denunciations of Catholic faith and practice.

.... What is striking about these [anti-Catholic] comments is not any individual phrase or accusation, but the completely casual way in which these views are stated, as if any normal person should be expected to share these beliefs ... Complaints about anti-Catholicism are likely to provoke countercharges of oversensitivity, much as complaints about racism or anti-Semitism did in bygone generations. As Andrew Greeley writes, anti-Catholicism is so insidious 'precisely because it is not acknowledged, not recognized, not explicitly and self-consciously rejected.' The attitudes are so ingrained as to be invisible.

I would offer further that American Anti-Catholicism has been shaped historically by two tropes, epitomized by two best-selling books of their day. The tropes are, that the Catholic Church is the locus of all sexual perversion hiding under an appearance of virtue, and, that the Catholic Church is the very place of un-freedom, and thus, a danger to all human freedom. The books are The Awful Disclosures of Maria Monk (1836) and American Freedom and Catholic Power (1948) by Paul Blanshard.

In August, 1834, the convent of the Ursuline Sisters in Charlestown, Massachusetts was burned to the ground by a Protestant mob. This remains one of the most shocking and violent episodes of Anti-Catholicism in U.S. History. The trigger for the mob was the rumor that women were being held there against their will.

The following year an ex-nun at the Ursulines, who had returned to Protestantism, published a sensational "tell-all" Six Months in a Convent. Even at the time, it was considered to be an inventive, unreliable account but nonetheless it was a best-seller. Launching off of this gothic novel, in 1836 a much more lurid and juicy "memoir" appeared, The Awful Disclosures of Maria Monk, which purported to be a truthful account of a nun held prisoner in a Montreal convent where all kinds of perverted behaviors took place...

*"Glorify the Lord generously, and do not stint with gladness. Give to the Most High as He has given, and as generously as your hand has

and He will repay you sevenfold."—Sirach 35*

This book has long-since been disproven as an arrant hoax, but it fed the appetite of popular Anti-Catholicism in 19th Century America. What the Protocols of the Elders of Zion is for inveterate Anti-Semites, the Awful Disclosures of Maria Monk is for inveterate Anti-Catholics.

Maria Monk was part of the genre of 19th Century American Protestant anti-Catholic invective. Paul Blanshard's American Freedom and Catholic Power, which first appeared in 1948, was a secular critique of Catholicism. Its charge was that faithful Catholics simply could not be trusted to hold high public office because they had dual loyalties to their religious dogma and their foreign leader the Pope. This best-selling book appeared in its Second Edition in 1958. It was the Blanshard charge which hovered over John F. Kennedy's Presidential Campaign in 1960 and influenced the candidate's famous speech in Houston to Protestant Pastors, wherein he took himself to the very brink of repudiating his own religion in order to re-assure his audience that he could be safely entrusted with the constitutional office of the US Presidency.

I think we are seeing something of the spirit of both Maria Monkism and Blanshardism in this particular outraged reaction to the US Bishops' internal debate. The toxins of American Anti-Catholicism are very much unleashed. A further wrinkle is to be found in the voices of lapsed Catholics and what I'll call "conflicted" Catholics (that is, Catholics who are half-in-love, half-in-hate with their own Church.) Whether they have the self-awareness to realize it or not, they are feeding Anti-Catholicism. Why do they think it a small thing to gin up the hatreds towards their own community (or at least the community of their origins)? This is not right.

The Bishops of the United States may or may not produce a document in November which is good or effective. The Faithful certainly have the liberty to respectfully critique it when they do. But the Faithful should also show loyalty to their Church and to their Bishops, and not take part in any way in the sin of Anti-Catholicism, even when, and especially when, they hold themselves to be faithful Catholics.

LATIN MASS PROPERS: FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

INTROIT: Psalm 26: 7, 9 Hear, O Lord, my voice with which I have cried to Thee: be Thou my helper, forsake me not, nor do Thou despise me, O God my Saviour. Psalm 26: 1 The Lord is my light, and my salvation, whom shall I fear. V. Glory be to the Father.

COLLECT O God, who hast prepared for those who love Thee such good things as eye hath not seen; pour into our hearts such love towards Thee, that we loving Thee above all things, may obtain Thy promises, which exceed all that we can desire. Through our Lord.

EPISTLE: I Peter 3: 8-15 Dearly beloved: Be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, being lovers of the brotherhood, merciful, modest, humble; not rendering evil for evil, nor railing for railing, but contrariwise, blessing: for unto this are you called, that you may inherit a blessing. For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile. Let him decline from evil and do good; let him seek after peace, and pursue it; because the eyes of the Lord are upon the just, and His ears unto their prayers, but the countenance of the Lord is against them that do evil things. And who is he that can hurt you, if you be zealous of good? But if also you suffer anything for justice' sake, blessed are ye. And be not afraid of their fear, and be not troubled; but sanctify the Lord Christ in your hearts.

GRADUAL: Psalm 83: 9, 10 Behold, O God our protector and look on Thy servants. V. O Lord God of hosts, give ear to the prayers of Thy servants. Alleluia, alleluia. Psalm 20: 1 V. In Thy strength, O Lord, the king shall joy; and in Thy salvation he shall rejoice exceedingly. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Matthew 5: 20-24 At that time, Jesus said to His disciples: Except your justice abound more than that of the Scribes and Pharisees, you shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. You have heard that it was said to them of old: Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill, shall be in danger of the judgment. But I say to you that whosoever is angry with his brother, shall be in danger of the judgment; and whosoever shall say to his brother: Raca, shall be in danger of the council; and whosoever shall say: Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire. If therefore thou offer thy gift at the altar, and there thou remember that thy brother hath anything against thee, leave there thy offering before the altar, and go first to be reconciled to thy brother; and then coming thou shalt offer thy gift.

OFFERTORY: Psalm 15: 7, 8 I will bless the Lord, who hath given me understanding; I set God always in my sight; for He is at my right hand, that I be not moved.

SECRET Be appeased, we beseech Thee, O Lord, by our supplications: and in Thy loving kindness, accept the offerings Thy servants and handmaidens lay before Thee, that the offerings of each to the glory of Thy name may profit all alike unto salvation. Through our Lord.

Preface of the Holy Trinity

COMMUNION: Psalm 26: 4 One thing I have asked of the Lord, this will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.
