ABOUT OUR PARISH

Welcome, New Parishioners and Sunday Visitors:

Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Parish is a canonically open parish of the Archdiocese of Boston, which has a Traditional Latin Mass apostolate. Both the ordinary form of the Roman Rite (1970 Missal) and the extraordinary form (1962 Missal) are celebrated here with the blessing of His Eminence Sean Cardinal O'Malley, Archbishop of Boston. We encourage new parishioners to please register in the parish and to introduce yourselves to the Pastor. We are always glad to welcome Sunday visitors here to our beautiful, historic church. We look forward to your coming again.

PLEASE TAKE THE TIME TO FILL OUT A PARISH REGISTRATION FORM.

Parish Mission Statement

“What then is a parish? It is the smallest section of the one universal flock which has been entrusted to Peter by the Lord.

Under the authority of a responsible priest who has received the care of souls from his bishop, the parish is, within the Church of Jesus Christ, the first community of Christian life; it is a community cut to human dimensions, in which the shepherd can know his flock and the flock can know their shepherd ... At the heart of this area, we find the parish church with its bell-tower, its baptistery, its confessional, its altar and tabernacle, a symbol of unity and the centre of community life.”

(Pope Saint Paul VI, reigned 1964-1978)
Raised to the Altars October 14th, 2018

WHEN A POPE REALLY GETS IT WRONG: THE SUPPRESSION OF THE JESUITS, 1773

☞ To the question: Has the Pope ever done something as Pope which the Church herself has had to later repudiate and reverse?, a very obvious case-in-point presents itself: the Suppression of the Jesuit Order by Pope Clement XIV in 1773 A.D.

ST. IGNATIUS LOYOLA
Founder of the Jesuit Order

Since its founding by the soldier-turned-priest Ignatius of Loyola in the 1500s, the Jesuit religious order had been in the forefront of the Catholic Church's missionary and educational life. Ignatius had called his new group "The Company of Jesus" in order to indicate its true Leader. This name was latinized as Societas Jesu, hence the initials S.J. to indicate a Jesuit priest or brother.

Despite its prodigious contributions to the Church over two centuries, however, by the mid-1700s the Jesuits faced powerful enemies in several Catholic courts of Europe. This is the background to the feature film The Mission where Jesuit missionaries Robert DeNiro and Jeremy Irons are told to abandon their Mission among the indigenous peoples in South America on account of political intrigues against the Jesuits. Eventually, the Pope himself suppressed the whole Jesuit Order.

Of this 1773 Suppression the Catholic Encyclopedia (ed. 1912) writes:

Having enjoyed very high favor among Catholic peoples, kings, prelates, and popes for two and a half centuries, [the Jesuit Order]

suddenly becomes an object of frenzied hostility, is overwhelmed with obloquy, and overthrown with dramatic rapidity. Every work of the Jesuits—their vast missions, their noble colleges, their churches—all is taken from them or destroyed. They are banished and their order suppressed, with harsh and denunciatory words even from the pope.

In the Papal Conclave of 1769 Lorenzo Cardinal Ganganelli was elected and took the name Clement XIV. Prior to the Conclave Ganganelli had indicated in writing that he was ready to sacrifice the Jesuits for political purposes. The enemies of the Jesuits were sure they had their man.

The whole matter of the Brief of Suppression was carried out in great secrecy. When it was finally released it fell like a sudden hammer blow. The Father-General of the Jesuit Order was arrested together with his assistants and confined like dangerous criminals in the Castel San Angelo. All of the papers of the Society were seized, with the title-deeds to Jesuit properties and considerable amounts of money designated for definite charities, which were now despoiled of their support.

The Pope's Brief of Suppression was a veritable litany of calumnies and exaggerations against the Jesuits. There was no mention of anything in their favor. In sum, the Jesuit Order was represented as "having occasioned perpetual strife, contradiction and trouble. For the sake of peace the Society must be suppressed."

The Suppression of the Jesuits was a shocking thing to many Catholic contemporaries, with all of its many-sided injustices and with the great harm done to the Church's Mission. That it was the act of the Pope made it even harder to bear. St. Alphonsus di Liguori tried to be as charitable as he could as to the Pope's motives but the darkness of the decision could not be explained away. "We must keep silence," he said, "Respect the secret judgments of God, and hold ourselves in peace."

It took 41 years before the damage was undone and the Jesuits were re-established in the in the Catholic Church. That occurred in 1814, after Napoleon Bonaparte's defeat by the European Coalition and his first exile to the Island of Elba. The Jesuits as we know them today date back to this second founding.

The Suppression of the Jesuits then is an example of how a Pope can be wrong—even really wrong—about something and still be Pope, and still have all of the authority of the Petrine Office, and still do plenty of things that are right for the governance of the Church. While we have more opportunities than Catholics of the 1700s had for making our views known about Papal decisions we find objectionable, we should still keep St. Alphonsus's counsel in mind and not lose our peace over them, no matter what.

LATIN MASS PROPERS: TENTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

INTROIT (Ps. 54. 17, 18, 20, 23:2-3) WHEN I cried to the Lord He heard my voice, from them that draw near to me; and He humbled them, who is before all ages, and remains for ever: cast thy care upon the Lord, and He shall sustain Thee. Ps. ibid. 2. Hear, O God, my prayer, and despise not my supplication; be attentive to me and hear me. V. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen. — When I cried to the Lord ...

COLLECT O GOD, who dost manifest Thine almighty power mostly in sparing and showing mercy: multiply upon us Thy mercy: that as we hasten towards Thy promises, Thou mayest make us partakers of heavenly treasures. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Who liveth and reigneth with Thee in the unity of the Holy Ghost, God, world without end.

EPISTLE From the First Letter of Blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians, 12. 2-11. BRETHREN, you know that, when you were heathens, you went to dumb idols, according as you were led. Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man, speaking by the Spirit of God, saith Anathema to Jesus; and no man can say: The Lord Jesus, but by the Holy Ghost. Now there are diversities of graces, but the same Spirit; and there are diversities of ministries, but the same Lord; and there are diversities of operations, but the same God, who worketh all in all. And the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man unto profit. To one indeed, by the Spirit, is given the word of wisdom; and to another, the word of knowledge, according to the same Spirit; to another faith in the same Spirit; to another the grace of healing in one Spirit; to another, the working of miracles; to another, prophecy; to another, the discerning of spirits; to another, divers kinds of tongues; to another, interpretation of speeches. But all these things one and the same Spirit worketh, dividing to every one according as He will.

GRADUAL (Ps. 16:8-2) KEEP me, O Lord, as the apple of Thine eye: protect me under the shadow of Thy wings. Let my judgment come forth from Thy countenance: let Thine eyes behold the thing that is equitable. ALLELUIA: Alleluia, alleluia. (Ps. 64. 2.) A hymn, O God, becometh thee in Sion: and a vow shall be paid to Thee in Jerusalem. Alleluia.

GOSPEL Continuation of the holy Gospel according to St. Luke, 18. 9-14. AT THAT TIME, Jesus spoke this parable to some who trusted in themselves as just, and despised others. Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one was a pharisee, and the other a publican. The pharisee standing, prayed thus with himself: O God, I give Thee thanks that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers; as also is this publican. I fast twice in the week; I give tithes of all that I possess. And the publican standing afar off would not so much as lift up his eyes towards heaven, but struck his breast saying: O God, be merciful to me a sinner. I say to you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: because every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled, and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

OFFERTORY (Ps. 24:1-3) TO Thee, O Lord, have I lifted up my soul: in Thee, O my God, I put my trust, let me not be ashamed: neither let mine enemies laugh at me: for none of them that wait on Thee shall be confounded.

SECRET LET the appointed Sacrifice be offered to Thee, O Lord: which Thou hast arranged to be offered to the honor of Thy name in such wise that it may be a remedy to us. Through our Lord ...

COMMUNION (Ps. 50:21) THOU wilt accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and holocausts, upon Thine altar, O Lord.

POSTCOMMUNION WE beseech Thee, O Lord, our God, that in Thy goodness Thou wilt not deprive of Thine aid those whom Thou dost not cease to renew with Thy divine Sacraments. Through...
